

Online Training

Reproductive Toxicity Assessment for Regulatory Compliance and Safety

17 March 2026, Online

This training will equip you with the skills and insights needed to confidently navigate REACH and CLP requirements related to reproductive toxicity. After attending, you will be able to interpret toxicity data, identify triggers for further testing, and understand the purpose and design of the Extended One-Generation Reproductive Toxicity Study (EOGRTS).

Learning Objectives:

- Understand core concepts, key endpoints, and regulatory guidance for reproductive toxicity
- Learn how to apply CLP and REACH requirements
- Gain practical insights into data assessment and triggers for further testing

Tuesday, 17 March 2026
09:30 – 15:00 CET
